and the door ajar, had his suspicions aroused, and receiving no response to Pleasant Homes in a Goodly Land and his knock, he ventured to enter. He consult found his master lying on the floor, beside a bier, whereon rested the body of his dead wife. It will be, perhaps, remembered by some of our readers that some years ago the doctor professed to have discovered the means of rendering human bodies imperishable. He was resolved to treat only with governments, and princely rewards could not induce him to reveal his secret, or employ his art in a single instance. Some time after his alleged discovery he lost his wife, to whom he was devotedly attached. His wonderful art enabled him to preserve her remains from decay. Except that we know that this woman died here six years ago, we would not believe but she was in a deep sleep-there is even upon her face a tender, living flush.

The doctor recovered his consciousness, but never his reason. He sank into a morose silence, refused to hold any intercourse with visitors, officers or attendants at the asylum, where it was thought best to send him, and has at length died, carrying his secret with him to the grave. How much of this story is fact, and how the fantasy of a disordered brain, it is impossible to de- D. M. C. GAULT.

SCROFULA 18 a taint or infection in the human organism which weakens the vital forces, and disorders or disarranges the functions of the whole system. This taint or infection is most usually hereditary in the constitution, but it may also arise from habits of life, unwhole-some food, etc. In time, if this disease does not show itself in an ulcerous or tubercular form, it induces those other diseases, such as consumption, ulcerations of the liver, stomach and kidneys, salt rheum, dropsy, etc. The best remedy ever yet discovered is "Dr. Walker's VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS." It will cure the disease if not too far advanced, and will eradicate the cause.
